“With sector valuations uniformly richly valued, we expect our quality and liquidity bias to be a significant source of benchmark-relative performance in the final quarter of the year.”

How did the Intermediate Aggregate portfolios perform during the quarter? How did this performance compare to the portfolio's benchmark?

Portfolios benchmarked to the Bloomberg Intermediate Aggregate Index returned 1.91% in the third quarter, outperforming the benchmark's return of 1.79% by 12 basis points. The year-to-date return now stands at 6.26%, 24 basis points ahead of the index.

What factors had the greatest impact on the portfolios during the quarter?

True to our investment philosophy, security selection had the greatest impact on performance, adding a total of 5 basis points to returns. Government holdings were the largest contributor.

What securities/sectors provided the greatest contribution to portfolio return?

An overweight in the Agency Mortgage sector was accretive to performance, adding 3 basis points. A drop in market volatility, to the lowest level in nearly 4 years, boosted returns.

What were among the strongest performing securities in the portfolio?

At the security level, corporate bonds in the utility industry generated excess returns of 1.29%. Low coupon mortgages outperformed equal-duration Treasuries by 52 to 57 basis points and exceeded 7% in year-to-date total returns.

Were there any sectors which hindered the portfolio's performance?

While outperforming Treasuries, asset-backed and commercial mortgage holdings lagged their respective benchmark returns by 26 basis points and 39 basis points, respectively.

What is your current outlook? How is the portfolio positioned based on your outlook?

With sector valuations uniformly richly valued, we expect our quality and liquidity bias to be a significant source of benchmark-relative performance in the final quarter of the year. Slow growth and lingering inflation may limit ongoing returns from the corporate sector, especially the lowest-rated within the investment-grade universe. We expect the yield curve steepening trend to resume, with the 5-year / 30-year measure revisiting the recent highs in the 125 basis point range, versus the current level near 100 basis points. The 5-year maturity range is also the focus of our corporate bond positioning, an area which is drawing increasing demand as investors reduce duration risk in non-Treasury holdings.

Performance is presented in U.S. dollars and reflects total returns. "Gross" returns are shown before deduction of investment management fees, while "Net" returns reflect the deduction of actual investment management fees charged to client accounts included in the composite, which may vary. For illustrative purposes only, a $100 million account paying a 0.50% annual management fee and earning a 10% gross return compounded over 10 years would result in an approximate 9.5% net return. This example is hypothetical and not representative of actual client performance or fee arrangements. Fees are detailed in Part 2A of CS McKee's Form ADV.
